

Rescue Diver Class

This course will be one of the most rewarding courses you can take as a diver. The Rescue Diver class will teach you how to come to the aid of other divers while also making you more confident and comfortable with your own diving. Throughout your training you will learn how to recognize and react to numerous emergency situations. When the course is complete you will feel confident in knowing that you have the training to address accidents that may occur.

Requirements

You must:

- be at least 12 years of age
- have Advanced Open Water training
- have current CPR and 1st aid certification
- be in overall good health

What to Expect

This class is very interactive; you will learn in a variety of roles with your instructor and fellow students. You will work hard and have a lot of fun in the process. The course consists of pool and classroom sessions and culminates with Open Water scenarios. You will learn how to recognize and handle situations such as an unresponsive diver, a stressed or panicked diver, a missing diver, a diver suffering from decompression sickness, and much more. Prior to the class you must have current CPR and first aid certification. If you don't have it, we offer it before each Rescue class.

Open Water Training

The diving experience includes open water skills training and scenario practice, which are completed over 2 days. By working together in teams, under the supervision of your instructor, you will use your training to practice real life situations. Once you are done we have a celebration barbeque to toast our latest Rescue divers.

Program Costs

Tuition of $399 plus academic materials (Rescue Diver manual and DVD). There are also minimum equipment requirements for the course or rental fees may apply.
